a cold winter in Putnam. This in reference to sporting events now carded or being arranged for. Among the best things promised is a wrestling match between Chief Fighting Bear, the Indian mat artist, and Lively Bill Collins, who started to make his reputation as a wrestler in Central Village. The date for this match has not been definitely fixed. As for baskethall games, all the best ones of the season are just ahead. Next Thursday evening the Milibury, Mass., team, one of the crackerjack fives of New England, will be in town and the fastest game of the season is looked for. Milibury has been cutting a wide swath among the teams in the Bay state, and Putnam is in for the real rapiding contest of the season. Pin Mathieu of Webster and Sidney Marland of Danielson will be in the Putnam lineap. Arrangements are also under way for a series of games with Webster and Southbridge, bost fast teams.

Mrs. John Addison Porter in Washington Fire.

Mrs. John Addison Porter of Pomfret was one of the guests at the Woodley inn, Washington, D. C., at the time that hotel was burned to the ground, the first of the month. Mrs. Potter was awakened with the other guests at 3 a. m., a bitter cold night, by the cry of "Fire!" At that time the inn was so enveloped in flames that she had only time to get a bathrobe and make her exit before it was too late. In spite of the extreme cold Mrs. Porter ran from the inn to the Cathedral school for girls without shoes or stockings. The Cathedral school for girls without shoes or stockings. The Cathedral school for girls, where Mrs. Porter's daughters are being educated, was about a quarter of a mile from the inn and after reaching the school Mrs. Porter watched the building, which contained many of her 'valuable personal belongings, burn.

NORWICH UNION C. E. ifty-Sixth Meeting at Baptist Church -Inspiring Addresses Afternoon and

The fifty-sixth meeting of the Norwich Christian Endeavor union was held at the Baptist church on Friday. The afternoon service began at 4.30, in charge of Rev. E. W. Potter, president. In an address at the opening he told of the increase in societies and membership which has been suggested by Father Endeavor Clarke—10,000 new societies and 1,000,000 new members before July, 1911. Connecticut is asked for 195 new societies. He spoke of the different parts of the piedge; 1911 must see better societies as well as more of them.

Chords and Discords.

Chords and Discords.

Rev. W. T. Thayer of the First Baptist church of Norwich was the next appeaker, his subject being Chords and Discords. A Christian chord is in accordance to a spiritual harmony in the Lord. He spoke especially of the discords—one in particular where in a society a problem comes up for solution that tests the graces, where diseaster follows, where one takes the lead, who has no tact. He spoke of the individual and of the symbol of discord in the life not consecrated to the service of Christ. That person is selfish in his own ambition. There are societies which should be done away with, but it is not the society whose power is "I can do all things through Christ." He then spoke of discordant individuals. It takes two to make a quarrel, but only one to make a discord. The society is no stronger than the individual member who gives it his support. In order to gain the desired increase each one must make the most of himself. The great object is to bring our lives in closer contact to Christ.

Miss Elizabeth Beardwood sang Ruth as a solo, with Miss Alice A. Brown as accompanist. This service closed with prayer by Rev. C. H. Peck of Hanover. Supper was served in the vestry of the church.

Evening Service.

At 7.15 the service was continued.
